John Argyle's Story

John Argyle is the owner of Enfield Refurbishments, trading since 2012. John currently has one apprentice called Lisa, and they mainly work in carpentry and joinery on older properties. John's love for woodworking started when he was just 6 years old, visiting his grandparents for Sunday lunch.

“My Grandad was a chippy and used to tinker about in his workshop, making hand tools in those days when you didn't buy them off the shelf. You used to make them and I found it interesting.”

At 16, John found an advert in the newspaper and applied for a Young Apprentice Carpenter position; John's first official entry into the woodworking industry. This ignited an interest around where timber comes from and how it is prepared; "it's a passion for oak that I've never been able to lose."

Over the last 30 years, one of John's greatest career achievements is successfully training 15 people. His knowledge and use of quality tools has created industry experts. Festool has provided support, making the training simpler, with the right tools and smart systems.

"Why would you want to cut something twice, when you can cut it right the first time? The easy way is the Festool way for us."
